

A close-up photograph of a spider web. The web is a classic orb-weaver design, with a central spiral and several concentric rings of spiral turns. It is covered in numerous small, glistening dew drops that catch the light, making the web appear shimmering and delicate. The web is stretched between thin, dark, dry plant stems. The background is a soft, out-of-focus greyish-brown, suggesting a natural outdoor setting in the early morning or late evening.
